VOL. VI. RALEIGH, SATURDAY, AUG. 19, 1865. NO. 9[illegible]

THE NEWS.

—The following sentence has been passed upon Colonel Louis Schirmer, of the Fifteenth New York artillery, and duly approved by the President:

"To be cashiered and dishonorably dismissed the service of the United States, forfeiting all pay and allowance now due, or that may hereafter become due, and that he may be fined the sum of two thousand dollars, and be confined at hard labor in Fort Warren, in Boston harbor, for the period of three years; and also that he be forever disqualified from holding any office of honor, trust or profit under the Government of the United States."

Among the charges against this officer were the following:

"Embezzlement and misapplication of money held in trust and belonging to enlisted men." "Drunkenness on duty." "Wilfully causing arms to be destroyed belonging to the United States," and "Knowingly making false musters of men, and wilfully signing muster-rolls wherein such false musters were contained." The regiment of which he was formerly colonel has been mustered out, and will leave for home in a few days.

"It has been unofficially announced that Mr. Horace Greely has ceased to control or even to conduct the New York Tribune. It is said the fact will be officially announced in a few days. The causes that lead to this action are only guessed at. I am of opinion that he has been crowded out by outside influences. He originally owned the entire property of the Tribune, but in an evil hour transformed it into a joint stock company. He retained, however, control of the paper by contract, but what does a contract amount to when one of the contracting parties enter into it for the sole purpose of accomplishing its ultimate vacation? The present controllers of the Tribune are not known to the public.

—The Chronicle, the Washington Chronicle, speaking of the mendacious Raleigh correspondent of the Associated Press at Raleigh, N. C., says:

"Will somebody let the World know who is this correspondent of the Associated Press? If he is the same who, during the war, became infamous as a manufacturer of bogus news from Newbern, no one will be surprised at anything that may emanate from that quarter. Let us have his name."

—The doctors specially devoted to the care of cholera patients, have tried a curious experiment, the object of which is to ascertain whether that disease is caused by a peculiar state of the outward air, as has been supposed. They sent up two balloons, one from a village as yet untainted by the epidemic, and the other from Alexandria. A quarter of fresh beef was suspended to each balloon, which was allowed to float for a certain time in the air. On making these balloons descend the meat which had floated over Alexandria was completely putrified, whereas that which had been suspended over the healthy village was perfectly fresh. The quarters of beef had been cut off the same animal.

—On Monday, flour commanded in Richmond, very fair prices. Family sold at $12.50 to $13; superfine $10 to $10.50; Extra $11 to $11.50—all Richmond inspection. Brands of Baltimore and New York Inspection were held at lower figures.

—Rev. G. W. Langhorne, an eminent and popular divine, of the Methodist persuasion, is preaching regularly every Sabbath at Liberty Hall, Alexandria.

—It is stated in military circles that five thousand of the troops are now on duty in the department of Virginia, are to be mustered out of service right away.

—The Philadelphia Press (radical) illustrates its theory of freedom of elections by saying: "Does any one suppose that Etheridge would be allowed to enter the Capitol as a member, no matter how great the majority that returned him. Undoubtedly not."

—The result of the election in Kentucky is four Republican and five Democratic members of Congress. The Legislature is Democratic, thus securing a Democratic United States Senator.

—The seats of four Republicans elected to Congress on Monday last, in Kentucky, are to be contested by their opponents upon the grounds of gross and flagrant frauds, and the alleged manner in which the election was conducted.

—The Administration intends to let Maximillian alone, and thus keep out of a war with France.

—Paul Morphy, the champion chess-player, has returned to New York, and is preparing an annotated volume of his games. The rumor that he was on Beauregard's staff is stated to be untrue.

The Springfield Republican says there is an unusual scarcity of servant girls in that city, and recommends the Freedmen's Bureau to send colored girls to supply the deficiency.

—Major Howard, A. A. General on the staff of Major General Hartsuff, has been promoted to a Lieutenant Colonelcy.

—Canadian traders complain bitterly of the "silver nuisance," and call on the Government to put a duty on it—make the banks receive it as legal tender to any amount, or do something to relieve them of the quantities of the "stuff" they are compelled to take instead of bills. Poor Canadians.

—The Shelbyville (Tenn.) Union of the 5th of August, says: "The clerk of our county court issued during the month of July, 429 marriage licenses. The number issued to white persons 23; to colored 406. He issued as high as 106 in one day. Is there a county in this State can beat this?"

—The Boston Herald says Major General Hooker is soon to proceed to St. Louis for the purpose of leading to the altar in marriage a wealthy and beautiful widow of that city.

—Generals Schofield and Wherry, U. S. A., were at Willard's, in Washington, Thursday.

—The American House and the handsome residence of Mrs. James E. Iglehart, at Annapolis, Md., were destroyed by fire on Monday morning last.

STATE ITEMS.

HEALTH OF WILMINGTON.—The health of Wilmington is said to be good. The Herald of the 15th says:

One of the most prominent merchants of this town now traveling through this State on business, writes back that on his overland race by all people with the belief that our city is overrun with yellow fever. Investigation into the origin of this belief has shown him in several instances that agents of Northern commercial houses have passed along just ahead of him and used this malicious report to divert business from its accustomed channels. The result is that in very several towns, generally in the agricultural districts, and goods are positively sought to be forced here for the business. If Northern gentlemen to exhibit such an unjust proceeding as this, it will summarily fail. Such rascals avail possibly for a short time, but in the end recoil with redoubled effect upon those who make use of them.

Once more we make the assertion that not only is there now none, but there has not been a case of yellow fever in the town this season. Wilmington was never more healthy at this season of the year at any former time. Nobody has any occasion to feel the slightest alarm in coming here to transact business, and we hope the people of the interior will not be frightened away by the bugbears of jealous and unprincipled rivals.

A wife of sixteen, married fifteen months, has had her husband bound over to keep the peace before Justice Connelly at Wilmington. Husband sober and inoffensive, but the spouse says is jealous as the old scratch.

All the liquor saloons where dead shot was dealt out by the glass, have been closed in Wilmington, but low groceries do a smart business on the sly.

We are happy to announce the fact, says the Newbern Times in connection with the return of this excellent officer, that the most amicable good feeling and harmony exists between the Military and civil authorities here. The rumors about a change of government, that have been flying over the city, are baseless. The military are determined to leave the civil authorities free control over the affairs connected with the municipal government, and will render every assistance to prevent lawlessness and rioting.

Policeman Felton, who was shot by the guard at Craven street jail in Newbern on Monday night, will probably have to suffer the amputation of his left arm, at the shoulder. The ball in passing through the wounded man's shoulder fractured the neck of the humerus. He is suffering very much.

The President has appointed Jesse Wheeler to be Collector of the Internal revenue for the several districts of North Carolina, and Francis B. Miller as Surveyor of Customs at Wilmington.

A correspondent of the Petersburg Express, writing from Easter, in this State and speaking of the corn, says:

Some idea of the expected abundance may be gathered from one single fact. Farmers in Warren, Franklin, Granville, Wake and other great corn-growing counties, are willing now to contract at $2 a $2 50 per barrel. Vegetables and fruit are also very profuse, and although bacon is somewhat scarce, the country people are living luxuriously and happily.

Of Rev. Mr. Kingsbury, recently ordained in this city, he writes:

I understand that the Rev. T. B. Kingsbury whose recent change in church relations, has created considerable comment, contemplates publishing in book form at an early day, his reasons for so unlooked for and important movement. Mr. K., as many of your readers are probably aware, was for many years a prominent member of the North Carolina Conference, but some two or three months since signified his intention of leaving the ecclesiastical body with which he had been so long connected, and expressed a desire to identify himself with the Baptist church. The formulas of examination, ordination, baptism, etc., were all enacted at the Baptist church in Raleigh some three or four weeks ago in the presence of an immense congregation, and notice of the event appeared in the Raleigh papers. Mr. Kingsbury is now at Warrenton, having assumed the pastoral duties of the Baptist church in that place. Being a man of unblemished character and very high attainments in the literary and theological world, his forthcoming book is naturally looked for with very great interest.

How the Signalling to Valentia was Managed.

[Valentia Letter in the London News.]

You are, I imagine, aware that no speaking is attempted, but that all the signals here received are recorded to the insulation and conduction of the cable. Two coils only are made use of, as I am informed, from this side, and the same power, I believe, from the ship. I am perhaps telling you nothing new, but it can do no harm if I repeat that the system is as follows:—At ten minutes before every hour (Greenwich time) the ship commences signalling to us. The ordinary signal is five reversals, one every two minutes; the signal for every fifty miles paid out is as before, commencing ten minutes before the hour, but ten reversals, or one every minute; and that for every fifty miles run by the ship two reversals of two minutes each, three two of one minute each, and then two more of two minutes each. I am often in the instrument room, and watch these signals. Two clerks watch—one the reflecting galvanometer, and the other the chronometer—each calling out "time" and "over" respectively, and you generally hear the two words come from them at the same instant. The signals are unmistakably clear, with a slight oscillation at each end; and it is most curious and interesting to watch these oscillations, and know that you are thereby watching and noting every roll of the big ship, which is at this moment upwards of five hundred miles distant.

A frightful accident occurred at the Queen's Theatre, in Hull, recently. A cry was raised that the roof was falling, and the people rushed to the doors in crowds. One man now lies in a precarious condition, and very many others were seriously hurt. The scene is described as most heartrending.

THE CITY.

MILITARY CHANGES.—Only a little more than a month in the year of insurrection has there been relieved from duty as provost marshal by Captain Adams, who has entered upon the discharge of the functions of district provost marshal and post commandant.

We learn further that the division and brigade headquarters have been discontinued.

It remains to be seen whether the same efficiency will distinguish the police government of the city as in the by-gone. Capt. Barrett, who is about to leave us, has made it his business to call good men the very highest position, and he deserves to be guided by the caution of any duty in the community. In our view he consulted only the wish of the government in every mild and effort against immorality, and the people of Raleigh place a high estimate on him for the fidelity to duty and the peace of the community.

We shall still have among us, at least for a brief time, Lieut. Graves, whose zeal as assistant provost in behalf of the same results are appreciated.

We hear Capt. Adams well spoken of by the officers whom he has succeeded, and therefore cannot contemplate that he will be less severe against vice. We shall see.

BUTTER AND EGGS.—There has been for several days past, an extreme scarcity of butter and eggs at the market, which has caused much inconvenience to families. Hardly an egg or a pound of fresh butter was to be seen yesterday morning. And we were informed by a prominent business firm that they could have sold hundreds of dozens of eggs during the day. Cannot our country housewives stir up their cows and hens and make them contribute a little more liberally to the support and comfort of the city people. Good prices and quick sales await all that may be offered. We appeal to the farmers to mind in these things, and do not dispose of them to hucksters before or after reaching the market square.

HORSES.—A vicious cow, the ownership unknown, made a successful horning demonstration against a little boy, named Glenn, yesterday, in the vicinity of the Lunatic Asylum. He attempted to drive her towards the city, in his gambols about the hill, when she unexpectedly turned against him and caught him on her horns. One toss, however, relieved him from his projection, and with an agility surpassed by few, he retreated beyond her reach. He was badly frightened but not injured.

EXCITEMENT WITHOUT CAUSE.—It is astonishing to note the percentage of excitable temperament in the world. Thursday evening, just as the cars from Goldsboro' reached the depot in this city, and when the engine was making scarcely any headway, the third car made a jump off the track. A hundred people made for the spot with lightning speed, only to discover the train standing still; nobody hurt and very few frightened.

JOHNNY AT GONE HOME.—The soldiers whose regiments are included in the lists specifying those which are to be mustered out are quite jubilant over the good time coming. It is genuine cause for the indulgence of good feeling and those of the troops who have made the acquaintance of our people—privates as well as officers—will carry with them many good wishes for their future happiness and success.

TO BUSINESS MEN.—We have just received from New York a large stock of Cards, Commercial Note and Foolscap paper, &c., and can now print cards, circulars, catalogues, &c., as cheap as the same can be had in the United States, and in the best style of the art. For fine work we have the fastest and best press in the city. Orders solicited.

COMING.—We hear that two regiments of the twenty third army corps are coming here in lieu of those troops which are to be mustered out. They are western men, and we hope will prove themselves as acceptable as the departing veterans.

NOT SO.—The report that negro troops are to garrison Raleigh and vicinity is without a shadow of foundation. The most of them are to be sent away from the State. So much for the evidences of our earnest and sincere loyalty.

THE FIRST QUESTION on the new Brigadier General commanding here,—appears this morning. It is not important, however, as it merely announces the changes we have noted in another place.

PETERSBURG RAILROAD.—It is important to shippers and travellers to read the advertisement of this road elsewhere. Acquaintance with the requirements of the company will save many perplexities.

See advertisement of John G. Williams & Co., brokers and bankers in this city. It is an old firm and responsible as it is energetic.

CORN.—The market is quiet with considerable quantities arriving. We hear of no sales in the city at present, though quantities of the article have accumulated at the depot.

FUN TO-NIGHT.—Another great crowd filled the City Hall to repletion last night, and Gilmore and Birch's Minstrels entertained them with such success as to evoke the most approving applause. The bill for this evening is a rich one both in quality and length. If you wish to drive off sorrow, go and see them.

DAILY PROGRESS.

RALEIGH, N. C.

SATURDAY, AUG. 19, 1865.

At Home and Abroad.

It is instructive, amusing and remarkable to note how doctors will differ in their theories respecting supposed or real maladies. There is no less instruction to be gained by observing like phenomena in the political arena, and this is specially true just now in North Carolina. The candidacy of the Editor of the Progress for the Convention, and the settled fact that Mr. HOLDEN, the provisional governor, will come before the people for gubernatorial honors when their will is to decide, supplies material at home and abroad for every species of conflict of opinion between the quacks who have assumed guardianship over the rehabilitation of North Carolina. As a specimen of what is thought of the position of Gov. HOLDEN and Mr. PENNINGTON, at the north, we append the following paragraphs from the New York Tribune:

"Considerable excitement and some indignation were caused here by the appearance of the Associated Press report in all the New York papers of the 1st of August, referring among other things, to what is called the "reckless use of the pardoning power in North Carolina," the probable assumption of Rebel debts, the prospective obnoxious character of the new Constitution, the declaration of William A. Graham against returning to the Union with negro suffrage as a condition, instructions to delegates to the convention to advocate the apprenticeship system for the freedmen or their re-enslavement—and other matters.

"There is much more truth than otherwise in the report: though the effect of the statements is to create a wrong impression as to the opposition existing here to Gov. Holden's policy, and as to the existence of an organization to oppose it. There is not a man who advocates the confiscation of Rebel property; there is not a man who dares to advocate the extension of suffrage to the loyal blacks, though one man, formerly holding office under Gov. Vance, is said to be in favor of it.

"Mr. Pennington, editor of the Progress, who is stumping the county as a candidate for the Convention, denounces as a "scoundrel" any one who says he is in favor of negro suffrage.

"Here is Governor Holden's own "landmarks" for Union men, cut from the Standard of July 31. Among other things, one of which is "the prompt insertion in the State Constitution by the approaching Conventoin of the Ordinance of '87, forever abolishing slavery or involuntary servitude in the State."

"5. The right of States to determine the questions of suffrage for themselves.

Here is the assumption of a representative of the radicals of the north—the partizans who are systematically laboring against the conservative and thoroughly unsectional creed as well as practice of President JOHNSON—that Gov. HOLDEN is not hostile to any class of men in North Carolina upon the basis of past errors; that he is not solicitous to see the principle of confiscation applied; and that there is not a man in the State who proposes the granting of the right of suffrage to the negroes.

But the cream of the entire extract is found in the Tribune's declaration that MR. PENNINGTON, THE EDITOR OF THE PROGRESS, DENOUNCES AS A SCOUNDREL ANY ONE WHO ASSERTS THAT HE FAVORS NEGRO SUFFRAGE. There is entire truth in the picture—it is faithful history in spirit and letter; but the astounding feature is that political intriguants here—mousing poppinjays—in the face of such notorious facts, still persist in misrepresentations of Mr. PENNINGTON and his views upon this identical question. He has not hesitated to avow the very sentiments ascribed to him by the Raleigh correspondent of Greely's journal, and there is no probability that he will modify them.

It was DANIEL O'CONNELL, we think, who declared that for his love of Ireland, he was the best abused man in the Queen's realms—and Gov. HOLDEN and Mr. PENNINGTON might with entire appositeness apply the same sentiment to themselves and for the same reason—their devotion to the whole Union and the interests of the entire people of North Carolina.

The truth is, apart from the wilful, malicious and mendacious slanderers of Gov. HOLDEN and Mr. PENNINGTON, there appears to have been even among honest men a remarkable proclivity to review the acts of the former and the language of the latter in a spirit not altogether fair. In his executive capacity, Mr. HOLDEN has not only evidenced the possession of high administrative capabilities, but marked and—in memory of the past—marvellous lenity in the application of the power of his position to old and bitter opponents. It has been the purpose of Mr. PENNINGTON to endorse that policy, and while promoting the popular interest of the State, to include in his denunciations only those whose position—whether so designed or not—was pre-eminently calculated to inspire distrust at Washington, delay the resumption of sovereignty by the people, and impoverish North Carolina.

GOV. HOLDEN left the city yesterday morning for Kittrell's Springs, and will be absent, we suppose, some days. The Governor has labored hard and incessantly for the last ninety days and requires recreation and rest; and as the press of business is over, and a proclamation issued calling an election for delegates to a Convention, we think no one will complain that he takes this short respite. As the Messrs. Blacknall, proprietors of the Springs, feed well, keep good wines and lake ice, we have no fears as to the Governor's treatment.

The True Policy.

The Richmond Republic urges the people of Virginia to elect to the Legislature and to Congress "men who were in no way identified with secession and the war," and such is the policy that should be pursued, as far as possible, in all the insurgent States. We believe that the great mass of those who urged secession and war, have sincerely and fully repented of their folly, and that now they will make good and loyal citizens; but as the government has adopted and indicated a policy, and as that policy demands that the work of reconstruction and restoration shall be performed by men who have not been conspicuously identified with the rebellion, it is obviously to the present and future interest of the States which expect soon to apply for re-admission to the Union to accept and adopt such means and measures as they know will best please those in authority, from whom we expect favors.

Thus believing, we do most honestly believe that members of the Convention that passed the ordinance of secession, members of the rebel Legislatures, and those who have held seats in the so-called confederate Congress, will, as a general thing, best serve their States and country, at the present time, by remaining perfectly quiet. If now loyal, as most of them no doubt are, we would not have them deprived of any right or privilege—far from it—but for the sake of the speedy restoration of the Union, upon a satisfactory and lasting basis, we think they would serve the State and country by not aspiring to office for the present.

Let us send to the State Convention, the State Legislatures and to Congress, men who have the best records at Washington and throughout the North, as peace and Union men, and those in authority and the population of the Northern States will take the result of our elections as an earnest of good intentions; they will deduce from such a course that we are sincere in our professions of loyalty, and coming to such conclusions, they will pursue a much more magnanimous course towards us than they would should we fill our legislative halls at home with, and send to Washington a class of men who have been conspicuous leaders in the prosecution of the war against the government.

We admit that many of these gentlemen, most of them we trust, are as patriotic and as loyal as any among us, and that they will labor as hard and as zealously to restore the State to the position and protection she forfeited by the act of secession; but as a matter of policy, for the sake of the State and country, with all the lights before us, we do not think they should thrust their names forward for office, or that their friends should urge any claim they may suppose them to have, at this time.

Alluding to the course likely to be pursued in Virginia, the Republic says:

"It must be matter of congratulation to all who love Virginia, that the press of the State, with singular unanimity, urges upon the people the counsel which The Republic has so long and persistently given, to elect to the Legislature and to Congress men who were in no way identified with secession and the war. It is not enough that this class of citizens is now loyal. We may be convinced of that fact, but we are not the tribunal which will decide their eligibility. We cannot elect them without giving ground to the suspicion that our professions of loyalty are insincere, and are not verified by our practice. The Government has clearly indicated to the people the only course by which civil government can be re-established. In that course there is nothing impracticable; nothing unmanly; nothing inconsistent with our best interests. It is not enough that we avoid evil; we must avoid the appearance of evil, and it is unjust to ourselves, and suicidal to our own welfare, to expose ourselves to misconstruction upon a point vital to our character and happiness when we have within our reach a legitimate means of vindicating our integrity to the satisfaction of the whole world.

"We can bear with patience the unjust and uncharitable aspersions which we have incurred by urging this course upon the people of Virginia when we see the evidence of its wisdom and reasonableness now sustained by the public opinion of the whole State. We venture to predict that, by the time of the elections, every county and Congressional district of Virginia will evince its thorough loyalty and its enlightened regard to the public interests by sending representatives whose fidelity to the country is above the suspicion even of the most jealous observers of our conduct. In the happiness and prosperity which will follow such a demonstration of the good faith of Virginia, we shall find an ample vindication of the course of this journal."

Educating the Blacks.

We have often argued that by educating, christianising and humanising the blacks recently set free, we should elevate ourselves as a people in the exact proportion in which we improved the condition of that race. We know that these views are not popular with some of our people, now, but when duty points the way, we walk it, without ever stopping to ask or care how it will affect our popularity. We feel that the sooner we educate the blacks, the better it will be for us as well as them. Either a feeling of sympathy and mutual interest must be established between the whites and the blacks of the Southern States, or a war of races with all its horors and sufferings will soon be upon us.

The Petersburg Index has a long article on the subject of educating the blacks, from which we take the following:

"The way is easy. Let there be set apart a portion of each Sunday in every church for the exercises of a Colored Sunday School, to which the colored people, who worship at the several churches, shall be invited to send their children and come themselves.—In a short time these schools will be all filled. By this means the work of moral training may at once be begun, and this, we may rest assured, is far the most important training for these people at this time. The mere secular training will follow in good time, and indeed will form a contemplating part of the higher culture of the soul. For the rest, we predict, with perfect confidence, that the time is coming when considerations of clerical enlargement will combine with the dictates of humanity to induce a regular provision for the education of this outcast race in all our communities."

We are glad to see such sentiments from such a source. The blacks must be educated and it is best that the whites of the South, the people who will be charged with the care and control of this inferior race hereafter, should do this work. As laborers, workmen, servants or in some capacity most of us shall have them around us, and the more intelligent and better educated they are, the better will it be for us. All will agree that educated, intelligent servants and laborers are better than stupid, illiterate ones.

Let screwheaded malcontents cease their repining and complaints, and go to work earnestly to improve the condition of both races. There is work enough for all christians and humanitarians to do, and they should be up and at it.

PERSONAL.—We were pleased to see in the city, yesterday, Judge Osborne, of Charlotte, who seemed to be in fine health and spirits. We were gratified to learn from him that all was quiet in his section of the State, and the people generally well disposed as to the present condition of things.

The Southern Governors.

The New York Times, one of the most conservative of the Northern papers, speaking of the Southern Governors, says:

The Provisional Governors appointed by President Johnson for the important work of restoring the Southern States to their civil relations, on a constitutional basis, have, without exception, approved themselves singularly well adapted to their positions. Their action, in the first steps, has, in every case, been discreet, temperate and conservative. They have adopted the wise policy of interfering as little as possible with those things which enter into the character, history and institutions of each State, which were established in other times and are adapted to existing conditions. In one direction they must build anew, and radically, but in others they find the result of much valuable work, which only requires to be left alone. Belonging to the States which they have been appointed to temporarily govern, these Provisional Governors have entered upon their duties with a knowledge of the people and of the local laws and necessities, which is of the highest advantage to them, and the fruits of which have already appeared in their measures and messages. While unequivocally loyal in every action and word, they do not unnecessarily stir up popular prejudices, or bear about the mien of conquerors. They all proclaim unflinchingly, however, that slavery is totally and forever abolished, and aid energetically in the reconstruction of the new social state upon the basis of universal freedom.

All the Provisional Governors of the States on this side of the Mississippi River have, moreover, the good fortune of being popular in their respective States. Governor Holden, of North Carolina, and Gov. Perry of South Carolina are both gentlemen who have been leaders of the progressive party, and who have been widely known as men of ability and character; while Gov. Johnson, of Georgia; Gov. Parsons, of Alabama and Gov. Sharkey, of Mississippi, have long been recognized in their native States as men of unblemished reputation, of high principle and of great capacity.

In the initial steps which these officers have taken, and in the others which they are about to take, lie the most difficult part of their work, and the most difficult part of the great labor of reconstruction. If they manage in the future with the discretion and justice which have characterized their first movements, they will have reflected honor upon themselves and done eminent service to their country.

[Paris Correspondence of the London Globe, July 28.]

Emigration en masse to North America is contemplated by the fifteen thousand Polish refugees now dispersed among the Swiss cantons, and they are in active communication with Washington, through their delegate, Knowikolsi, about the terms on which they could be received as agricultural laborers in the States. The Helvetic Diet has already voted a subsidy to each emigrant of one hundred and eight francs, and it is expected that the French Government will place some of its transport ships at their disposal for conveyance to their place of destiny.

TRYING TO STEM THE CURRENT.

[Stockholm Correspondence of London Post, July, 27.]

In Norway they continue to deprecate the extent to which emigration from that country to America is still carried on. The departure of her stalwart sons from a country so thinly populated is naturally regarded as a great calamity; but though this expatriation of her people had been going on for some time, it was not until 1849 that it had assumed such proportions as to excite alarm; and yet since that time it has been steadily on the increase, having in 1853 reached 6,050 persons, in 1857 the number having risen to 6,560, and having in 1861 attained its maximum of 8,850. It may be satisfactory to Englishmen to know that of these at least two-thirds embarked for Canada, while only one-third went to the United States, though there is reason to fear that many of those who intended to go to the British Provinces had their destination afterwards changed, and that consequently many have fallen victims in the late war.

In Sweden no correct returns of those who have emigrated can be obtained. There is good reason to believe that the average number who have embarked from Swedish for transatlantic ports has not annually exceeded fifteen hundred, which, when compared with the numbe of those who are known to have sailed from the less populous kingdom of Norway, affords convincing proof of the greater degree of contentment which prevails in this than in that portion of the united kingdom.

VERY LIKE FOOTE.—A Montreal correspondent writes:

"A few weeks since, when Consul General Potter returned from Detroit, and an excited mob collected in the neighborhood of his office and counselled on the propriety of tearing down his flag and mobbing his office. News of the excitement reached St. Lawrence Hall, where Governor Foote was sitting, in company with other Southerners. On hearing the account and the intention of the mob, Foote sprang up and declared his intention of going to the Consul's office to defend the flag. 'We've had our own fight over it,' said he, 'but by —— no —— foreigner shall tear it down unless over my dead body.' I have the story from Consul Potter himself.

[ORIGINAL]—FOR THE PROGRESS.

PURE AND HOLY.

Meek and lowly,
Pure and holy,
As the sunbeams on the earth,
Child of duty,
Love and beauty,
Was Cosette from her birth.

Made up of smiles,
And sunny wiles,
In loveliness she stately grew,
And yet this flower,
In woman's hour,
Is beautiful and nobly true.

Long may she bloom
To banish gloom,
And plume with joy sorrow's wing,
But love will ask
To sit and bask
In her smiles and hear her sing.

But if another—
Not a mother—
May whisper vows almost divine;
My sweet story,
Hope and glory,
Is to blend her life with mine.

Then, Cosette, dear,
Can you hear
The voice you knew to be love's own;
And still not say
"Might shall be day
And all my heart thine, thine alone."

RALEIGH, 1865. PHIL BRINDAL.

NEW BERN, N. C., Aug. 11, 1865.

EDITOR RALEIGH PROGRESS:—With great satisfaction do I read the thoroughly loyal and emphatically common sense expressions contained in your paper from day to day in regard to the selfishly ambitious and self-aggrandizement seeking politicians who were instrumental in plunging the once powerful and glorious old North State into the maelstrom of secession, and placing her in the unnatural and always distasteful position of enmity towards the United States Government; and the little confidence the loyal masses should now place in them in casting about for leaders or standard bearers in the ensuing elections of men to the various offices to be filled necessary to effect our restoration to the bright position in the galaxy of national stars, held by North Carolina prior to May 1861. But it seems to me there is one other class you have neglected to mention, that equally if not still more deserves to be given the go by, by the people, and might as well be made to understand in the outset that they also are entitled to and will have nothing but back seats assigned to them. I allude to those political, artful dodgers and place hunters who have received appointments from the Federal Government, and been sent here probably to get rid of them—who have ground down, because they had the power by favor, and the disposition, naturally, all with whom they have ever come in contact, and made unnecessary and unwarranted exactions from them—who have played good Lord and good Devil—snubbing and tyranizing over a Union man here, and granting extraordinary privileges to a secessionist there, as would most contribute to their ambitious desires—who now are as ready to swear they were always opposed to coercion, as some to insist they were never in favor of secession; who are for universal suffrage "on the sly," but dare not say so openly, because it may not be popular—who have "made a good thing" out of the war, enjoying place and profit and "stealings," and now propose to become "the divinities that shall shape our ends," and shape them for their own advancement. Of this tribe, also, should the people be warned, and if they are so "cheeky" as to thrust themselves forward and undertake to constitute themselves our leaders and teachers, if they will not "take a hint," should not the necessary kick be administered? Welcome, thrice welcome, say I to all the enterprising business men from the north that have come or that may hereafter come to settle in our midst—to them let the right hand of fellowship be extended, but let all political "limpers" and place hunters return from whence they came or go anywhere else. None of them are wanted here, not either by the down-trodden southern Unionists, who propose to remain in the southern clime, but if they will stay, let them be assured all their acts of petty tyranny, all their meanness, while they held a "little brief authority," are not forgotten or forgiven, as they will be reminded when the opportunity is given.

SIMON CAMERON ON RECONSTRUCTION.—In a speech delivered in Philadelphia on Thursday evening, the Hon. Simon Cameron said:

"The last time I spoke to you here was in favor of the lamented Lincoln. It was by the exertions of the people of Philadelphia, more than any other portion of the State, that he received the vote of Pennsylvania. He has fallen. He lives in the heart of his country, and while we remember him with affection, we are proud to know that he was successor to whom we can turn with no less assurance of safety. President Johnson has, perhaps, the most difficult task ever devolved upon the Chief Magistrate of any nation. It will be your duty, gentlemen, as well as mine, to aid him and our encouragement and confidence in his good intentions and signal ability.

We may all have our theories of conciliating the men who have been in the rebellion, and of restoring the States to the Federal Government, but we should remember that Mr. Johnson is in a position where he has all the facts before him better than we have, and we should not embarrass him by stating our opinions upon him, but rather wait till he shall have developed a policy, the result of mature reflection, and then give it our earnest and patriotic support."

APPOINTMENTS.—The President has appointed the following consuls:

P. De Casola, of New York, to Cyprus.
F. Farewell, of Ohio, to Cadiz.

In Henderson county, Tennessee, on the 8th ult. Sherbourne Wait had to assemble the Union and Secesh elements of his neighborhood. During the meeting a secesh lady refused to dance with a Union man. Wait and White, each armed, met on the floor. The result was a general fight took place. Wilson Waylit was killed and several wounded of the secesh friends; White was wounded, Markham killed, several wounded of the Union party. Altogether four were killed and seven wounded, including the young lady's brother.

Proposals
FOR THE PURCHASE OF Horses, Mules, Wagons and Harness.

OFFICE CHIEF QUARTERMASTER,
DEPARTMENT OF NORTH CAROLINA,
RALEIGH, August 14th, 1865.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at this office until 12 o'clock M. on Tuesday, September 5th, 1865, for the purchase of a large number of Horses, Mules, Wagons and Harness.

The property will be free for the inspection of bidders at Charlotte, Raleigh and Newbern, N. C., from the 20th of August until the day of sale.

Horses and Mules will be put aside in lots of 12, 24, and 48, each; the Wagons in lots of 2, 4 and 8 each; and the Harness in lots of 12, 24 and 48 single setts, each. Proposals will only be considered for the whole of each separate lot.

A number of Four-Mule and Six-Mule Teams, with Harness and Wagons, will also be set aside at each point named, and proposals received for single Teams, with the Wagons and Harness complete.

Proposals should be addressed to the undersigned, at Raleigh; and should be endorsed—"proposals for the purchase of public property."

The right is reserved to reject all bids that may be offered.

Successful bidders will be notified in person or by telegraph; and will be required to remove the property on or before September 25th.

Full information, and blanks for proposals, will be furnished on application by letter or in person to the undersigned, or to Lieut. Simpson, A. A. Q. M., Charlotte; Capt. A. M. Gronniss, A. Q. M., Raleigh; Captain U. H. Wheeler, A. Q. M., Newbern; and Captain D. W. Boyd, A. Q. M., Raleigh.

Payment must be made in Government funds on the delivery of the property.

All Mules offered in this manner are sound and serviceable—a large proportion of them far superior to any offered for sale at auction in the Department. This will be the only opportunity planters and others will have of purchasing this class of stock from the Government.

CARD—LAND AGENCY.

THE UNDERSIGNED HAVING HERETOFORE announced a "General Intelligence and Land Agency," in the city of Raleigh, to commence operations on the 1st inst., have since determined to confine their business to the counties of Wake, Granville and Franklin, in connection with the "N. C. Land Agency" of Messrs. Battle, Heck & Co. We find that we will be able to give our personal attention to a more extended business of this character thereby.

We have a general knowledge of the Lands in the above mentioned counties, and by personal acquaintance with most of the desirable tracts.

Landowners, &c., in either of the aforesaid counties, desiring to call on us for further information as to the objects of the Agency, will please address us at Raleigh. Meanwhile, attention is directed to the prospectus of Battle, Heck & Co., published in the newspapers of the State.

NEW SKIRT FOR 1865.
The Great Invention of the Age in Hoop Skirts.
J. W. BRADLEY'S NEW PATENT DUPLEX ELLIPTIC, (OR DOUBLE) SPRING SKIRT.

THIS INVENTION CONSISTS OF DUPLEX (OR two) Elliptic Pure Refined Steel Springs, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most flexible, elastic and durable Spring ever used. They seldom bend or break, like the Single Springs, and consequently preserve their perfect and beautiful shape more than twice as long as any Single Spring Skirt that ever has or can be made.

The wonderful flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any Lady wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt will be experienced particularly in all crowded Assemblies, Opera, Carriages, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, Arm-Chairs, for Promenade and House Dress, as the Skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a Silk or Muslin Dress.

A Lady having Enjoyed the Pleasure, Comfort and Great Convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For Children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all others.

The Steels are covered with 2 ply double twisted thread and will wear twice as long as the single yarn covering which is used on all Single Steel Hoop Skirts. The three bottom rods on every Skirt are also Double Steel, and twice or double covered to prevent the covering from wearing off the rods when dragging down stairs, stone steps, &c., &c., which they are constantly subject to when in use.

All are made of the new and elegant Corded Tapes, and are the best quality in every part, giving to the wearer the most graceful and perfect shape possible, and are unquestionably the lightest, most desirable, comfortable and economical Skirt ever made.

WEBB, BRADLEY & CARY, (late J. I. & J. O. Webb,) Proprietors of the Invention, and sole manufacturers, 97 Chambers and 79 & 81 Reade Streets New York.

For sale in all first-class stores in this City, and throughout the United States and Canada, Havana de Cuba, Mexico, South America and the West Indies.

The Cable Lost ! !

POSITIVE FAILURE OF THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH.

The Cause of the Suspended Signals Now Explained.

All clue lost—A Buoy anchored near the SPot.

THIS NEWS COMES DIRECT FROM THE TELFGRAPH FLEET

INTENSE DISAPPOINTMENT IN NEWFOUNDLAND.

All Visitors Give Up the Cable and Go Home.

HEART'S CONTENT, Monday, Aug. 14
VIA ASPY BAY, Tuesday, Aug. 15, 18 5.

We have just heard, through a schooner named the First Fruit, which arrived at Harbor Grace Aug. 14, that at 4 o'clock, A. M., on the 5th of August, she saw the Great Eastern and a large screw steamer in latitude 51 40 north, longitude 38 west. At 6 o'clock, A. M., on the same day she saw a beacon buoy, with a flag marked "Great Eastern, No. 5." The ships were at the time about five miles southeast from the buoy, and the weather was exceedingly thick and foggy.

The Captain of the First Fruit endeavored to near the steamer, but owing to a calm was oblidged to give up the effort.

The screw steamer went alongside the schooner and spoke with her. The Captain of the steamer (which is supposed to be the Terrible) informed the Captain of the schooner that the cable parted on the 2d instant, and that the buoy was the mark where the cable was last seen.

The Captain of the schooner further states that he is not certain of the exact position of the buoy, having had no observation for several days.

We had been expecting for several days that some disaster had occurred to the fleet, but were not prepared for the actual announcement when it reached us. We do not, however, give up the expedition as a failure, as when last seen the steamers were endeavoring to discover the location of the buoy, showing that they had abandoned all hopes of eventually laying the cable.

Mr. Mackay, the Superintendent of the Newfoundland Telegraph line, is yet hopeful that the Great Eastern will arrive in the course of a few days with the cable all right.

I cannot describe to you the deep disappointment which prevails among the people in general.

There is no disguising the fact that the general feeling is, after so many failures, that the Atlantic Cable is a thing which will never be successfully accomplished.

All the visitors from St. John's and other places have gone home, and the reporters and telegraphers are all that remain of the thousands who filled the village last week.

At the time of the cable breaking it was about six hundred miles distant from the coast of Newfoundland.

HEART'S CONTENT, Monday, Aug. 14,
Via ASPY BAY, Tuesday, Aug. 15.

As a corroboration of the news brought by the First Fruit, I may add that a vessel arrived at Harbor Grace on Friday last, which reported having seen, four days previously, a large buoy two miles distant from his vessel. The Captain of the First Fruit reports having asked the Terrible whether they considered the cable recoverable. The answer was "Could not say."

ENCOURAGING ACCOUNT FROM TEXAS.

A Washington telegram says:

Private letters received here from prominent citizens of Texas state that very many of those who were intense secessionists are now equally as fervent and zealous for the Union. The largest slaveholders express themselves reconciled to the changed condition of affairs, and say that well regulated free labor will prove more profitable than servile help, the war having irritrievably demoralized the domestic institution. The crops throughout Texas are represented as good, and the opinion prevails among the leading men that none of the lately rebellious States will more easily return to its former national relations than Texas.

MAINE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

The Maine Democratic Convention met at Portland yesterday. The Hon. E. F. Pillsbury of Farmington was elected temporary chairman. After the adoption of resolutions, Hon. James Howard was nominated for Governor, when the Convention adjourned.

We have to add the name of Benjamin Fitzp atrick formerly U. S. Senator for Alabama, who resigned his seat on the secession of that State, but never took any active part in the war.

TENNESSEE ELECTIONS.

Upper East Tennessee—N. J. Taylor, (Union.)
Knoxville District—Horace Maynard, (Union.)
Chattanooga District—Asa Faulkner, (Opposition.)
Nashville District—W. B. Campbell, (Opposition.)
Clarksville District—D. B. Thomas, (Opposition.)
West Tennessee—Colonel Hawkins, (Union.)
Memphis District—Dr. Leftwitch, (Union.)
Shelbyville District—Edward Cooper, (Union.)

The Nashville Press expresses the opinion that "the chance of the admission of our delegates is not very flattering."

TO BE RELEASED.

The Canadian Judge Counsel, of St. Albans raiders notoriety, has been summoned by telegraph to Quebec. It is supposed that he is about to be reinstated in the office from which he was dismissed.

KENTUCKY ELECTIONS.

Hon. Garrett Davis, United States Senator from Kentucky, and other prominent gentlemen of that State, are in Washington to-day to lay before the Executive the facts in connection with the military usurpations and outrages perpetrated by sanction of military commanders, on the day of the recent so-called election in Kentucky, setting at defiance as it is alleged, all law and order, and boldly substituting the bayonet for the ballot.

ANOTHER PROMOTION.

Major Gen. Hooker has recently been made Major-General in the regular army. His commission as Brigadier-General in the regular army dated from Antietem.

EX-CONFEDERATE MEXICAN CORPS.

Information is received at Washington that Gen. Shelby, late of the Confederate army, has organized a corps of 4,000 mounted men for the Mexican service, and is in command of it. The corps is for special border service, and is formed entirely of men of the late Confederate Army. It will be a species of Mounted Rifle or Ranger force. The men are to receive $50 per month, out of which they are to subsist themselves.

ARRESTED.

Major Dick McCann, formerly of the Southern army, who made himself conspicuous as a cavalry leader in Tennessee, has been arrested on charge of having been a member of the court martial which hung several Union citizens, at Knoxville during the war. He will be taken to Knoxville, to stand trial.

Great Excitement in Money Circles—Many Failures Reported—Over Issue of Gold Certificates.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Further developments of the forgery of gold certificates reported yesterday have been made to-day. It appears that Mr. Edwin Ketchum, of the firm of Messrs. Morris, Ketchum, Son & Co., has been in charge of the business of Mr. Chas. Graham, broker in the Exchange Place, during the illness of that gentleman. Upon his return to his office he discovered that several checks were missing from his check-book, and this fact has led to the suspicion that Mr. Ketchum is concerned in the forgery of certain fraudulent checks that have within a few days past been brought to light. At all events Mr. K. is absent. It is said that Mr. Graham has been victimized to the extent of $285,000! This morning the firm of Ketchum, Son & Co. suspended payment, and Graham & Co. have also announced their inability to meet their engagements. Mr. Graham stated at the Board he hoped to be able to settle all his stock contracts at to-day's price.

SECOND DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—There is great excitement in money circles in consequence of the frauds reported. Many failures are announced, including Charles Graham & Co., and Ketchum & Son. It is stated that the latter have over issued gold checks to the amount of $1,800,000, and that young Ketchum has left for parts unknown.

[THIRD DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Another statement in explanation of the suspension of Messrs. Ketchum & Co., is that Mr. Ketchum's son had abstracted bonds and other securities from the vaults of their banking house to the amount of $3,000,000! Another statement is that young Ketchum has forged gold certificates to the amount of $2,500,000, which have been passed into the coffers of other banks which will be the principal sufferers. After sifting the various rumors it seems to be established that young Ketchum is guilty of robberies to the amount of not less than $2,000,000. He had for some time taken the place of his father in the management of the business, and possessed the fullest confidence of all who knew him. He left his home last evening and has not been traced since. His partners did not suspect their losses yesterday, so adroitly were his operations conducted.

[FOURTH DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK August 15.—Edward Ketchum, who has absconded, is twenty-five years of age, and has been married about two or three years, and has one child. Before departing, he addressed a letter to his father, in which he fully admitted his crime, and asked him to provide for his wife and child, saying he had provided for himself.

It is reported that he abstracted bonds from the safe of the firm, but to what amount is not known.

The Fourth National Bank, it is now stated, is involved by his transaction to the extent of $355,000, having negotiated some of the forged certificates.

The last seen of young Ketchum was in a trunk store on Broadway, where he had some fifteen packages of money, thought from a glance to be as much as $60,000. Here he bought a travelling bag.

A card from the President of the Fourth National Bank says that the Bank is perfectly sound, and that the earnings for the last six months largely exceed the amount of forged certificates held.

Jenkin, the robber of the Phœnix Bank, waved his examination and was fully committed.

PROSPECTUS
MERCHANTS, MECHANICS'
AND Farmer's Journal.

IT is proposed, in connection with a General Printing Business, to publish a

DAILY, SEMI-WEEKLY AND WEEKLY JOURNAL

bearing the above title. As its name imports, it will primarily be devoted to the interests of those classes of the community embraced in the designation, and will strive to elevate and advance them in accordance with the progressive ideas of the era. At the same time it will not be unmindful or unappreciative of the wants of the general public. While it will not enter the arena of political gladiatorship, it will be made the vehicle of independent discussion of State or National exigencies as they may arise,—always consistent with an unswerving loyalty to the common Government.

It will give all the latest news, foreign and domestic—"to show the very form and body of the times." And it will have a sub-editor or correspondent in every county in the State,—thereby ensuring a local interest which cannot fail of rendering it attractive to all sections.

Every effort will be made to render the JOURNAL an acquisition, especially to the business community, and a valuable medium through which their wants and operations may be made known. Advertising will be arranged at low rates and the most attractive inducements to secure it be extended.

The size of the JOURNAL will be double medium, and it will contain many neatly printed pages. It will be gotten up in the best style of typography and printed on new material.

TERMS—Daily for one year, $8 00

AUCTION SALES
GOVERNMENT PROPERTY
IN THE
STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA.

AUCTION SALES OF HORSES, MULES, ARMY Wagons, Spring Wagons, Harness and other government property will take place from time to time at the principal cities and towns in the State.

These sales will afford farmers excellent opportunities to stock their farms with any class of animals they desire to purchase.

Each sale will embrace a variety of stock, including riding and draught Horses and Mules of every class. A few very large Mules, thoroughly broken to harness, and in fine condition, will be offered at each sale.

The attention of capitalists and dealers in stock is particularly called to the opportunities here presented for profitable investment. Stock purchased for cash at these sales may be sold on credit, with ample security, at a large advance, to farmers who are depending on their growing crops for means to purchase—or may be retained, and sold for cash at a large profit after the crops have matured.

Terms CASH on day of sale.

Sales will continue during the month of August, and will be advertised in this column as soon as dates are fixed.
